

Interpersonal Interactions

I can make new friends_____.

By loving

By fighting

Instructions / Feedback for the Teacher:

Talk to the students about how important it is to accept and celebrate differences among classmates. Being kind means respecting everyone's uniqueness and creating a classroom where everyone feels included and supported.

Interpersonal Interactions

How do you feel when you're having fun?

Bored

Happy

Instructions / Feedback for the Teacher:

Discuss with students that how having fun makes us feel happy and excited. Keep finding activities that bring joy to you.

Interpersonal Interactions

I can help the animals by_____.

Instructions / Feedback for the Teacher:

Talk to students that not only feeding animals is helpful, but it's also important to consider additional ways to support them, such as providing shelter or seeking assistance from animal rescue organizations.

Interpersonal Interactions

Which is the correct way of taking care of plants?

Instructions / Feedback for the Teacher:

Explain children that plants need our care to grow well. We should water them regularly and make sure they get enough sunlight. Taking care of plants helps the environment and keeps the ecosystem balanced.

Interpersonal Interactions

You should be kind to someone with a disability.

yes

no

Instructions / Feedback for the Teacher:

Guide the students to be sensitive to individuals with disabilities! Always remember to treat others with kindness, respect, and understanding.

Interpersonal Interactions

Put a tick on the picture that shows kindness.

Instructions / Feedback for the Teacher:

Teach children that supporting and helping our friends is a good way to be kind. But ignoring their feelings or teasing them is not fair. We should always do things that make our friends feel important and respected.

Interpersonal Interactions

Is it ok to love and respect our elders?

yes

no

Instructions / Feedback for the Teacher:

Encourage children to respect elders for their wisdom and experience, not just because of their age. Let's continue to be kind and considerate to everyone in our community.

Interpersonal Interactions

When would you say "thank you"?

Instructions / Feedback for the Teacher:

Let's learn about gratitude! Saying thank you helps us appreciate others' kindness and strengthens our connections with them.

Interpersonal Interactions

Encircle the pictures of helpers who assist us in our daily life.

Teacher

Toys

Doctor

Instructions / Feedback for the Teacher:

Help children identify some important helpers in our daily lives. Always remember to appreciate their help and kindness.

Interpersonal Interactions

Identify these religions.

Islam

Christianity

Instructions / Feedback for the Teacher:

Tell students that we are all together, even though we follow different religions like Christianity, Islam, Hinduism, and Buddhism. It's important to understand and appreciate each other's beliefs. Respecting everyone's different beliefs makes our community stronger and more welcoming. We are all Indians.